

Dear Fellowship Committee,

I'm excited to apply for the Youth Action for SDG6 Fellowship, as this aligns perfectly with my commitment to making clean water and sanitation accessible to everyone. Through my work in humanitarian aid, I've supported communities during natural disasters, like the floods in the Czech Republic and storms in Mexico. I've seen how essential water is for health and stability, and I believe that community-led solutions are key to achieving SDG6.

My career goal is to contribute to sustainable water management systems that help protect and empower communities. This fellowship would give me the chance to learn directly from global experts, and I hope to gain practical skills in local water management and sustainable strategies. I'm especially interested in learning how to work more effectively with communities, as I've seen that solutions work best when they involve the people they're designed to help.

I've also helped individuals gain educational opportunities by teaching English and preparing them for the TOEFL exam. This experience has shown me how much knowledge-sharing can uplift communities and provide them with better prospects.

Through the fellowship, I hope to learn more about sustainable water practices and bring this knowledge back to support local communities. I'm committed to using these skills to tackle water issues both locally and globally, and I'm eager to contribute to the fellowship's mission with my humanitarian background.

Thank you for considering my application. I'm truly looking forward to the chance to be part of this effort to achieve SDG6.

Sincerely,

Josue Elias Leyva
